Friday evening vehicle pursuit ends with wreck

Elba man arrested on multiple charges

A short-lived vehicle pursuit last Friday evening, Aug. 11, on U.S. Highway 84 ended near the Coffee/Covington County line when the vehicle attempting to elude officers wrecked.

Paris Edwards, age 25, of Elba reportedly was the driver a Dodge Ram pickup that attempted to elude an Elba Police officer after the officer observed

Edwards driving erratically. A short time after the pursuit began, Edwards' truck flipped into a residential yard along Hwy. 84. He was officially arrested later that evening and placed in the Coffee County Jail, where he remained as of press time this week.

Edwards was charged with possession of marijuana – first degree ($15,000 bond), attempting to elude – no injury ($6,000 bond), D.U.I. – any substance ($5,000 bond), reckless endangerment ($6,000 bond), tampering with physical evidence ($6,000 bond), and misdemeanor possession of drug paraphernalia ($6,000 bond).

The driver of this Dodge Ram pickup truck reportedly tried to elude law enforcement last Friday evening, Aug. 11, on U.S. Hwy. 84 before eventually wrecking the vehicle near the Covington/Coffee County line. The driver, identified as Paris Edwards, age 25, of Elba, was reportedly operating the vehicle at a high rate of speed and driving erratically during the short-lived pursuit. He eventually flipped the truck into a residential yard along Hwy. 84. Edwards was later arrested on multiple charges.

News Brief

Deputies with the Coffee County Sheriff's Office arrested a Brundige, Ala. woman Saturday, Aug. 12, on drug charges.

According to jail reports, Amburlee Kennedy, age 35, of Brundige was arrested for possession of a controlled substance ($5,000 bond), and misdemeanor possession of drug paraphernalia ($1,500 bond).

She was released on bond Monday night, Aug. 14th.

Coffee County engineer submits FY24 county transportation plan

Coffee County engineer Marty Lentz presented the county's "Rebuild Alabama" Fiscal Year 2024 County Transportation Plan during the Coffee County Commission meeting held Monday, Aug. 14, in New Brockton.

Lentz said four roads are set to be resurfaced in the plan for an estimated total project cost of $2,071,000. The roads included in the proposed plan are County Roads 151, 505, 728, and 514.

A total of 14.78 miles of county roads will be resurfaced when these projects are completed.

The County Road 151 project is 2.76 miles; the County Rd. 505 project is 2.04 miles; the County Road 728 project is 3.48 miles, and the County Rd. 514 project is 6.50 miles.

Since the inception of the Rebuild Alabama roadway projects in 2020, Lentz said Coffee County had resurfaced over 42 miles of its roads at a cost of $4,918,970. This includes 16 different road projects.

These 16 projects includes County Roads 723, 200, 110, 420, 422, 423, 248, 107, 377, 418, 147, 719, 346, 450, 239, and Heritage Heights.

The projects proposed in the FY24 Plan would only add to those numbers to provide better roadways.

Local emergency responders were dispatched to this two-vehicle accident Tuesday morning, Aug. 15, on Alabama Hwy. 167 near County Rd. 145. Only minor injuries were reported. No further details were available as of press time this week.

CCBOE to hold FY24 budget hearings on Sept. 7th

The Coffee County Board of Education will hold the first public hearing to present the system-wide budget for Fiscal Year 2024 on Thursday, Sept. 7, 2023, at 12 noon. The budget hearing will be held at the Coffee County Board of Education Administrative Office, 400 Reddoch Hill Road, Elba, Alabama, during a special Board Meeting.

The second public hearing will be held at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 7, at the Coffee County Board of Education Administrative Office, 400 Reddoch Hill Road, Elba, Alabama, during a regular board meeting.

Parents, teachers and interested citizens may attend these budget hearings. Budget forms will be available at the Coffee County Board of Education Superintendent's Office prior to the hearings.

Power Outage Notice:

The Elba Electric Department will be working to replace poles in the Buford, Claxton, Yeverlerton, and Smith area on Thursday August 17, 2023. Customers in those areas may experience brief power outages after 5:00 p.m.

The city apologizes for any inconvenience during this time.

Firefighters with the Elba Volunteer Fire Department were dispatched Sunday, Aug. 13, at approximately 3 p.m., as mutual aid for the New Brockton Volunteer Fire Department. The call for help was due to a residential structure fire that New Brockton firefighters were battling. The home was located at the intersection of Hwy. 122 and Hwy. 51, just outside of New Brockton. Also responding to assist with this fire were firefighters from Enterprise and Fort Novosel. One New Brockton firefighter sustained minor injuries when he fell through the floor during offensive attack on the fire. Another major issue firefighters had to deal with while trying to extinguish this blaze was high temperatures and humidity that day. Reportedly, several firefighters suffered heat exhaustion while on scene, and they were treated by EMT's with Enterprise Rescue. Troy Fire Department was requested to respond to the scene for an additional ambulance due to the number of firefighters needing medical treatment for the heat-related illnesses. The fire was fully extinguished after 7 p.m. Sunday night.

The Elba Recreation Center, located on Claxton Avenue, remains closed for now as the city is looking to complete a renovations project, but rejected bids Monday night due to the high prices for construction work. Rec Center offices currently are at 128 Court St.

Elba City Council rejects bids for rec center renovations

City of Elba officials recently opened bids for the Elba Recreation Center renovations, and although two bids were received on the project, the council voted Monday night, Aug. 14, to reject all bids due to the overall cost of the bids:

Elba Mayor Tom Maddox said the project engineer checked all bids and recommended that all be rejected due to the high price of the bids received. He further noted the engineer recommended rebidding the project with a change in scope due.

During the discussion of the matter Monday night at the Elba City Council meeting, Maddox said the city has some $500,000 set aside for the rec center project, and both bids received during the recent bid opening were over $1 million.

Council members voted unanimously to rebid the contract for the recreation center renovations.

The rec center, located on Claxton Avenue, is currently vacated in anticipation of getting the needed renovations completed. The rec center staff is temporarily utilizing a city-owned building at 128 Court Street for their offices.

Also, during Monday night's meeting, the council voted to award a drainage and road improvements project to the low bidder for the project. This is a CDBG-funded project.

The bid was awarded to Bullard Excavating Inc. in the amount of $500,375, contingent upon ADECA approval.

The work for this project will generally consist of: resurfacing and miscellaneous drainage improvements along Jones Street, Jackson Street, Thomas Street, Reynolds Street, and Lee Street.

"Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience." – George Washington

There is a proposal in Washington for a new law banning high officials buying and selling on the stock market. The idea is admirable but the success of such a law is a pipe dream. If these folks want to get around such a law, they will have a spouse, child, parent, or maybe a trust fund do the stock buying and selling. The person who wants to get around a law WILL find a way to do so. In fact we would suspect there would soon crop up a whole new bunch of 'advisors' who would help these officials quietly get around the law.

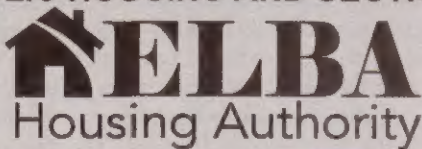

Record setting temperatures are being recorded all around the world. Sunday afternoon our phone recorded a 100-degree reading shortly after lunchtime. We broke out in a sweat just walking around the yard planning our next 'clean up' project. Later we read some medical report (on the internet) explaining that the high temps not only made our body overheat, but also 'cooked' our brains! Now you can share the official excuse for our mental shortcomings!!

We keep getting asked "When is the City of Elba going to name a new police chief?" Well we can't answer that question, as there is no official action underway to select a replacement for the former chief. The department is functioning now with an 'acting chief' who has not expressed any desire for being named the permanent department leader. That is understandable, as police chief doesn't seem to be a lifetime appointment in Elba (and often shouldn't be)!

COVID is experiencing an uptick all across America. There is not enough uptick to sound the alarm and go back into the required mask wearing but we need to keep up our guard. We personally expect to get the shot this Fall when the updated version is available. It doesn't hurt and is better than even the mildest case of COVID (and of course far better than the death cases). We continue to urge our readers to strongly consider joining us this fall in getting the upcoming new COVID shot.

Area schools are back in session, even though cotton picking has not even begun! It is amazing how traditions have changed even during our lifetime. Gone are the days when schools didn't open until cotton picking was about over and even the football teams had shortened training sessions to make room for the gathering of South Alabama's life blood. We urge our fellow drivers to be extra watchful for the potential of an excited child darting out into the traffic. Also remember that it is against the law to pass a stopped school bus! Think of the horror of going through the rest of your life knowing your careless driving was responsible for the death of a child who had his or her whole life ahead of them.

Cuzin Lou Lou's Tales from Yonder

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

Cuzin Lou Lou has been really busy with several different projects recently, and those have cut into her sleep and "me" time!

It also has cut down on Lou Lou's available time to snuggle with Little Bean and the little monster has not been happy about that. A few times, Lou Lou has been working at home, and she would have to stop work for a bit to play with Little Bean. When the little one wants some attention, she demands it one way or another.

If Lou Lou is sitting at her computer at home working, Little Bean will jump up on her legs and scratch away with those front paws until Lou Lou stops what she is doing. Generally, she either wants to play or she wants something out of her treat box.

Lou Lou is hoping to have all her "extra projects" caught up by end of this week, and she can return to showing Little Bean all the attention her little furry self desires...oh yeah, and Sister too. She like attention as well!

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

Comfort Foods During Times of Grief

People handle seasons of grief in different ways - and one area where you see that quite clearly is in their relationship to food.

When faced with a loss, some individuals essentially stop eating, needing to be reminded by their family members to get three healthy meals a day. This is a normal response to grief. However, the opposite scenario is just as common, and just as normal: Many of us turn to food to provide us with comfort, craving calories as a way of dealing with complicated emotions.

Believe it or not, the concept of "comfort food" comes with scientific backing. The important thing to know is that foods rich in fat content, sugar, or salt tend to stimulate the brain's reward center; they can produce a temporary "high," a temporary yet noteworthy elevation of mood.

That's why, when you're feeling down or depressed, it can be tempting to reach for a chocolate shake, a candy bar, or a bag of chips. These foods really do make you feel better, at least in the short term.

Of course, there are a couple of problems. One is that these foods are not especially healthy - and while there's certainly nothing wrong with splurging every now and again, you don't want to develop habits that will compromise your physical well-being.

Additionally, comfort food can become a tool for self-medication - and while it effectively minimizes feelings of sadness, it doesn't offer a constructive way to cope or to heal. The worst-case scenario is that comfort foods take the place of more meaningful therapies, like talking about your grief with a close friend or with a counselor.

Keep all of this in mind as you reach for those comfort foods. You're not wrong to think that they work - but that doesn't necessarily mean they're the best way to handle your grief.

ers were brought to surface one by one, hope turned to joy for the miners, their families, their rescuers, and literally an entire nation that had been watching on TV.

On the morning Jesus arose from where He had been entombed, there was a similar mixture of fear, despair, and joy. The guards were "frightened to death" – as the saying goes – by the sight of the angel. The women's own fear was mixed with despair that someone had stolen His body, but that despair would soon give way to joy when they heard that Jesus was alive. How blessed we are: because of their testimony we have no cause for fear or despair, only unmitigated joy! – C.R.B.

Elba First Assembly of God

My grandfather and grandmother Johnson were sharecroppers. During the Great Depression they (and their fourteen children) would live wherever someone would provide a ramshackle house and let them work their fields. They lived at several locations in northern Dale and southern Barbour counties. It was a tough life that demanded hard work and much sacrifice.

Years later, one of the locations holds special significance for my family. On this land where my dad's family lived in an old house owned by someone else now sits a nice home, built and owned by my brother. Time has certainly redeemed our family!

We all have had sad, tragic, and regrettable events in our life. Things have happened to us, and we have done things that we wish could be deleted. Pain and memories remain. Some things cannot be changed, but there is still hope. We have a Redeemer!

Job, in the crucible of unthinkable suffering, said "I know that my Redeemer lives, and he will stand upon the earth at last. And after my body has decayed, yet in my body I will see God."

Boaz was a "kinsman redeemer" to Ruth, as allowed in the Law of Moses.

Isaiah 48:17 states "This is what the Lord says - your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: 'I am the Lord your God, who teaches you what is good for you and leads you along the paths you should follow'."

These and other references to a redeemer culminate in Jesus, who is our ultimate redeemer.

He has taken our sin upon himself. He has taken our painful past, and given hope. He has taken our turmoil, and given peace. He is our Redeemer!

LIFESTYLES

Several members of the Elba Public Library "Book Club" are shown here meeting Tuesday morning, Aug. 15, in the community room at the library. This week's book discussion was on "Catching Fireflies" by Charles Martin. The Elba Public Library offers programs for all ages throughout each month, such as the book club. Stop by or check out the library's Facebook page for more information on the programs offered.

Story Fest celebrates imagination

by Mikailie Caulder,
Auburn University Living
Democracy Program student

With deep-rooted connections to Dolly Parton's Imagination Library, Judy Penuel, started planning and preparing for the Imagination Story Fest. "I was working with Dolly when she started the program 35 years ago," she said.

Moving to the wiregrass area 3 years ago, Penuel noticed a need for an affiliate and "decided the children of Coffee County deserved to have books from the program." Parton's Imagination Library, a nonprofit organization founded in 1995, has distributed millions of free books to children worldwide. The program grants children a free book each month from birth to age 5. A celebration of creativity, storytelling, and the power of imagination, the Imagination Story Fest took place on June 10th. The event, held at Enterprise State Community College, saw an impressive turnout of participants. Attendees of all ages embraced the joy and wonder of literature.

Penuel, Director of the Dolly Parton Imagination Library of Coffee County, spent approximately 6 months gaining sponsorships for the event. Organized to promote literacy and provide children with books, the Imagination Story Fest featured a diverse range of activities.

The event's highlight was the Storytelling Stage, where renowned authors, local celebrities, and talented children's entertainers fascinated the audience.

Jennifer Amlong, Director at Elba Library, expressed her delight at the variety of shows, "The kids were exposed to many different performers." Magician Doc Magic and Ventriloquist Jacki Manna were among the entertainers involved.

Amlong shared, "My personal favorite was seeing the kids following Kezia as she led them in yoga through storytelling." Through stomps, stomps, and roars, Kezia prompted a creative, educational, and entertaining experience for all.

The Storytelling Stage even featured Bill Lepp, a five-time champion storyteller. Known for his dynamic and humorous storytelling style, Lepp captivated his audience with engaging narratives.

His presence is a celebration of storytelling highlighting the power of entertainment, education, and inspiration. Specifically, Penuel explained, "we wanted to be able to introduce the art of storytelling done through festivals nationwide."

Alabama Physical Activity and Nutrition Plan to improve health behaviors predicts Alabama Wellness Alliance

The Alabama Wellness Alliance (AWA), previously the Alabama Obesity Task Force, has released the Alabama Physical Activity and Nutrition Plan (ALPAN), which is supported by the governor of Alabama and the state health officer.

Low rates of physical activity, poor nutritional intake, food insecurity, chronic diseases, and obesity are public health concerns throughout the United States, especially in Alabama. Leaders and decision makers in the state recognize the significant impact of a healthy diet and adequate physical activity on improving health outcomes.

New law prohibits smoking and vaping in vehicles with children

Secondhand tobacco smoke leads to health problems, and there is no safe level of exposure for children or adults. A newly enacted Alabama law prohibits smoking or vaping in enclosed motor vehicles with children ages 14 and younger as passengers. Children's smaller bodies take in a larger amount of air, so tobacco smoke is particularly hazardous to them. In infants and children, secondhand smoke can cause:

- Sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS)
 - Respiratory infections
 - Ear infections
 - Asthma attacks
- SIDS is the sudden, unexplained, unexpected death of an infant in the first year of life. It is the leading cause of death in otherwise healthy infants. Chemicals in secondhand smoke appear to interfere with regulation of infants' breathing.

The ALPAN utilizes the Social Ecological Model to provide a roadmap for creating a healthier Alabama through practical, evidence-based physical activity and nutrition strategies to produce long-term health benefits for individuals in the state. Members and non-members of the AWA, from a wide range of regions and multidisciplinary sectors of the state, contributed their expertise, knowledge, and experience to the development of a plan that is realistic, achievable, and appropriate for Alabama.

Goals and detailed objectives and recommendations for physical activity and nutrition strategies for sectors across the state, including business and industry; education; fitness and sports; health-care; non-profit; volunteer, and faith-based organizations; public health; public lands, parks, and recreation; and transportation, community planning, and access are provided in the ALPAN.

The ALPAN seeks to address health disparities and ensure every person can achieve optimal health regardless of where they work, live, worship, and play. Policymakers, health professionals, and all Alabamians are encouraged to access and utilize the ALPAN, which can be found here: <https://www.alabamapublichealth.gov/awa/alpan.html> people who do not already use tobacco.

- No e-cigarette has been approved by the FDA as a quit smoking aid. To protect children riding in your vehicle, do not let anyone smoke. Rolling down windows does not protect them. Smoking or vaping in an enclosed vehicle with children is a secondary violation. This means that if a driver is pulled over for another reason and a child is present, fines are up to $100. The Alabama Department of Public Health urges you to make the decision to quit smoking. To get confidential information, referrals and counseling:
- Call this free quitline: 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669)
- Go to this website: <https://quitnowalabama.com/>
- Text QUIT to (205) 900-2550

Our youngest grandson Cannon came over for a visit over the weekend to get some pictures made ahead of his first birthday, and while his excitement on the pier didn't last long, he did fish with me a little bit and was amazed how big the lake was compared to his pool. With his first birthday only a day away, I hope he enjoys his first birthday party more than his first fishing trip.

For what it is worth...

 The preseason high school football polls are out, and while they mean nothing, they do give an indication of the respect a program has built over the years, and that is certainly the case here in Elba where the Tigers are ranked second in the 1A poll behind defending state champion Leroy by both the Alabama Sports Writers Association and the Alabama High School Football Historical Society. The Tigers posted an 11-1 record last season and an 11-2 record back in 2021, and with nine starters back on both sides of the ball it is easy to see why the Tigers have received so much preseason hype. I know the players and coaches at Elba High have been hard at work all summer getting ready for the season, and ready or not it is here. I for one am more than ready!

 Elba Tiger football standout Alvin Henderson announced last week he had narrowed down the list of potential college suitors from over seventy to ten. His 'Top 10' include Alabama, Arkansas, Auburn, Florida State, Georgia, Miami, Penn State, Tennessee, Oregon and Southern Cal. Henderson stated in a published interview in a daily newspaper the list included teams that he has built a relationship with since recruiting began in the ninth grade and that no team was really a front runner at this time. My guess is that the announcement will not slow down the recruiting process that much, but at least he did give some fans a reason to get excited.

 The sport of football has always been popular in the South, and when you stop and look at the number of youngsters playing football in Alabama it is clear the state is among the tops in the nation, behind only Mississippi, when based upon per capita population. In Alabama, Mississippi and Texas one third of all male high student-athletes play the sport. According to statistics from the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, 7.7 high school football players per 1,000 play in the state of Mississippi, while in Alabama the rate is 5.9 student-athletes per 1,000, followed by Texas at 5.6 per thousand. In the year quoted in the study (2021-2022) just over 30,000 high school boys played football, making it the state's most popular sport, with basketball coming in second with a total of 13,000. And as any good athletic director will tell you, when a school plays football you really need to add cheerleaders, band members and fans into the equation, which makes it the biggest show in town!

 In closing.... A major gambling scandal has hit college football after earlier making headlines in pro sports and even among college coaches, and while there is no doubt the NCAA will step in and make new rules, it isn't hard to figure out why the players are starting to gamble since all the daily papers list betting lines in every edition, ESPN has a show dedicated to betting lines and it is legal to get on college games in most states online and at various websites. Years ago it was illegal to possess marijuana in the country before individual states changed the law, and while it may not seem like a fair comparison, I look for the rules to change when it comes to betting and in the not so distant future it will be legal to bet on campuses across the nation before a game starts. Hey, it's a crazy world we live in, and isn't getting any better.

Elba Tigers ready to go on the prowl

While the Elba Tigers have piled up the wins in the past two seasons in rolling to a 19-1 regular season record and a 21-3 overall record, the Tigers have seen the road to a possible state title end each year in the second round of the playoffs. With nine starters returning on both offense and defense from last season's 11-1 squad, the team has set lofty goals that include a long run in the post-season and a trip to Tuscaloosa to compete for the Class 1A state championship.

"We feel like this could be our best season since we got here," admitted fourth-year coach Marc Sieving, in a recent published interview in The Dothan Eagle, "and when the players set their goals they wanted to win in the post-season. That is a goal we all have, but we have a very tough regular season schedule that includes eight region opponents that have the same goals as we do, as well as a pair of 3A teams that don't have any intention of losing to a 1A team. We are going to have to stay focused at improving one day at a time and being a better team every Friday night."

The name all Tiger fans mention when looking ahead to the season is junior running back Alvin Henderson, a five-star back with over 70 college scholarship offers from across the nation. The 5-10, 195-pound, speedster, is the reigning 1A 'Back of the Year' after a banner season a year ago in which he rushed for 2,636 yards and 46 touchdowns, an average of 219.7 yards per game and 13.5 yards per carry, and also caught two td passes for 26 yards.

"Alvin is a five-star running back and so we obviously run the football a lot," said Sieving. "We did throw the ball to him some this summer in seven-on-seven competition, and is a very good receiver. We won't hesitate to throw him the ball coming out of the backfield, but he is one of the best runners in the nation and that is how he will be used. Alvin has been an outstanding running back since the ninth-grade, but has worked hard to get better every day in practice and it is that hard work that has made him the player he is today."

While any team with a player like Henderson on its roster would be excited, Coach Sieving has many other reasons to look forward to the upcoming season.

"We didn't really lose but two seniors off last year's team on both offense and defense," stated Sieving, "and they were the same two guys. We have the majority of our players back and they are now stronger and faster. We feel like we will have an opportunity to play some good football this season, and are all looking forward to the season."

While Henderson is the main weapon in the Tigers high-scoring offense, he is surrounded by an abundance of talent at almost every position.

Senior quarterback Brayden Johnson is back for his third year as the Tiger signal-caller, and the 6-1, 240-pounder, is a threat both running and passing. His strength and power enabled him to run for 559 yards and four touchdowns during his two years at quarterback, while also throwing for 1,083 yards and 10 scores.

"Brayden is a hard-nosed player that comes to play every day," added Sieving. "He is confident player and is calm no matter the situation."

Anchoring the Elba line up front will be four returning starters in junior Logan Horton (5-9, 180), senior Jamal Siler (6-4, 275), senior Kaleb Mitchell (6-2, 270) and senior Keaton Poole (5-11, 215), while also back in the lineup will be senior tight-end Ty Sieving (6-2, 200). A new face in the starting lineup to replace one of the two seniors from a year ago will be highly-regarded junior Emmanuel Cook (6-4, 285), who is also getting a lot of looks from colleges across the nation.

"The right side of our offensive line will check in at 270, 275 and 285," said Coach Sieving, "and that is rare in 1A football. They are all big and strong, not just heavy, and hopefully will give us a plus we can capitalize on in our running game."

While the talent is easy to spot on offense, two other returning starters include junior blocking back Jacob Watkins (6-0, 200) and senior wide-receiver Collin Arnold (6-3, 170), while also manning starting spots will be junior wingback Cayden Adkins (6-1, 235) and junior wide-receiver Brady Johnson (5-11, 175).

"Our offense has scored a lot of points the last two years and is centered around our running game," said Sieving. "Everybody knows what we are going to do, but not everybody

Elba ranked #2 in preseason poll

The Alabama Sports Writers Association released its 2023 preseason high school football rankings last week with the Elba Tigers ranked #2 in Class 1A.

The Tigers, which posted an 11-1 record last season and have a 21-3 record over the past two seasons, have been ranked in the 'Top 10' in the sports writer's poll for an amazing 221 weeks, and are ranked in the preseason poll for the 21st time in 39 years.

All seven defending champions were ranked atop their respective classifications, led by (7A) Thompson, (6A) Saraland, (5A) Ramsay, (4A) Andalusia, (3A) St. James, (2A) Fyffe and (1A) Leroy.

The 'Top 10' in each class, along with area teams receiving votes are as follows:

Class 7A – 1. Thompson, 2. Auburn, 3. Hoover, 4. Central, 5. Phenix City 6. Vestavia Hills 7. Enterprise 8. Dothan, 9. Mary Montgomery 10. Prattville

Class 6A – 1. Saraland 2. Clay-Chalkville 3. Hartselle 4. Mountain Brook 5. Theodore 6. Hillcrest Tuscaloosa 7. Parker 8. Muscle Shoals 9. Spanish Fort 10

Class 5A – 1. Ramsay 2. Charles Henderson 3. UMS-Wright 4. Pleasant Grove 5. Faith Academy 6. Leeds 7. Moody 8. Beauregard 9. Gulf Shores 10. Demopolis

Class 4A – 1. Andalusia 2. Cherokee County 3. Montgomery Catholic 4. Jackson 5. Oneonta 6. Jacksonville 7. Anniston 8. Westminster Christian 9. Handley 10. T.R. Miller

Class 3A – 1. St. James 2. Piedmont 3. Gordo 4. Mars Hill Bible 5. Mobile Christian 6. Madison Academy 7. Houston Academy 8. Sylvania 9. Pike County 10. Hillcrest Evergreen (Also) 13. Opp, 15. Straughn

Class 2A – 1. Fyffe 2. B.B. Comer 3. Pisgah 4. Highland Home 5. Tuscaloosa Academy 6. Arlton 7. Reeltown 8. Vincent 9. Goshen 10. Aliceville (Also) 12. G.W. Long

Class 1A – 1. Leroy 2. Elba 3. Pickens County 4. Brantley 5. Meek 6. Sweet Water 7. Spring Garden 8. Lynn 9. Coosa Christian 10. Millry (Also) 13. Florala, 14. Georgiana has the backs, receivers and linemen we have, and when you can average 10 yards per carry running the ball, why throw it."

The Tiger defense struggled at times last season at times, but did limit seven opponents to one score or less, and appears to be a veteran group entering the season.

The defense will be anchored by a returning all-state defensive back in senior Cameron Gray (6-1, 165), who had over 50 tackles and picked off five passes a year ago.

"We expect a solid effort on defense and feel like we should be able to hold teams down in points, as well as run to the ball and make tackles. Our group of linebackers in Jacob Watkins, Cayden Adkins and Brayden Johnson will be second to none! Those three guys are big (tipping the scales at over 200 pounds) and fast, and can really play."

Collin Arnold and Ty Sieving will also return as starters at outside linebacker, and both are rangy defenders standing over 6-2. Add to that Jamal Siler (270) and Kaleb Mitchell (275) in the line, Cody Gray (6-0, 160), a senior, safety; reserve linemen Emmanuel Cook (285) and Keaton Poole (215); and, cornerback Brady Johnson (175). Newcomer Kendrick Jordan, a transfer from Dale County, is also being counted on to be a stopper at a linebacker spot on defense.

"We have both our kickers back in placekicker Alex Wisecup and punter Brayden Johnson," added Sieving, "and that is a place where it is always a plus to have experience."

Wisecup, a senior, was an all-state selection a year ago and last season booted a 43-yard field-goal, while Johnson has a big leg and can flip the field.

"Injuries are always a concern," said Sieving, "and we do have a lot of players that go both ways. However, this year we have made a concerted effort to develop quality depth, and feel like we will be able to give everyone a break during the game to keep them as fresh as possible. We think we did a good job in the spring and summer developing some younger players, and will keep working to get more depth."

"We know we will get everyone's best effort every week and have a bullseye on our backs," admitted Sieving, "but we are confident we can have another winning season and the players are working every day to be the best they can be. Every game will be a battle, but our players are battle-tested and ready to get on the field."
